FIRE RISK ASSESSMENT TIPS.

- Your Fire Risk Assessment should be specific to your workplace.
- Your Fire Risk Assessment should be completed by a competent Fire Consultant.
  - A Fire Risk Assessment and a Fire Audit are different services. Typically a Fire Risk Assessment will offer guidance on both areas of compliance and non compliance whilst a Fire Audit will generally focus on areas of non compliance.
- Generic Fire Risk Assessments serve no purpose and have no value.
- Your Fire Risk Assessment should adequately cover your workplace risks in terms of identification and risk controls for fire safety.
- Fire Risk Assessment protocols from other jurisdictions outside of Ireland will in all probability not be fully compliant with Irish legislative requirements.
- Your Fire Risk Assessment should be reviewed at least annually or more regularly as appropriate.
